

THE CENTRAL BANK OF THE BAHAMAS

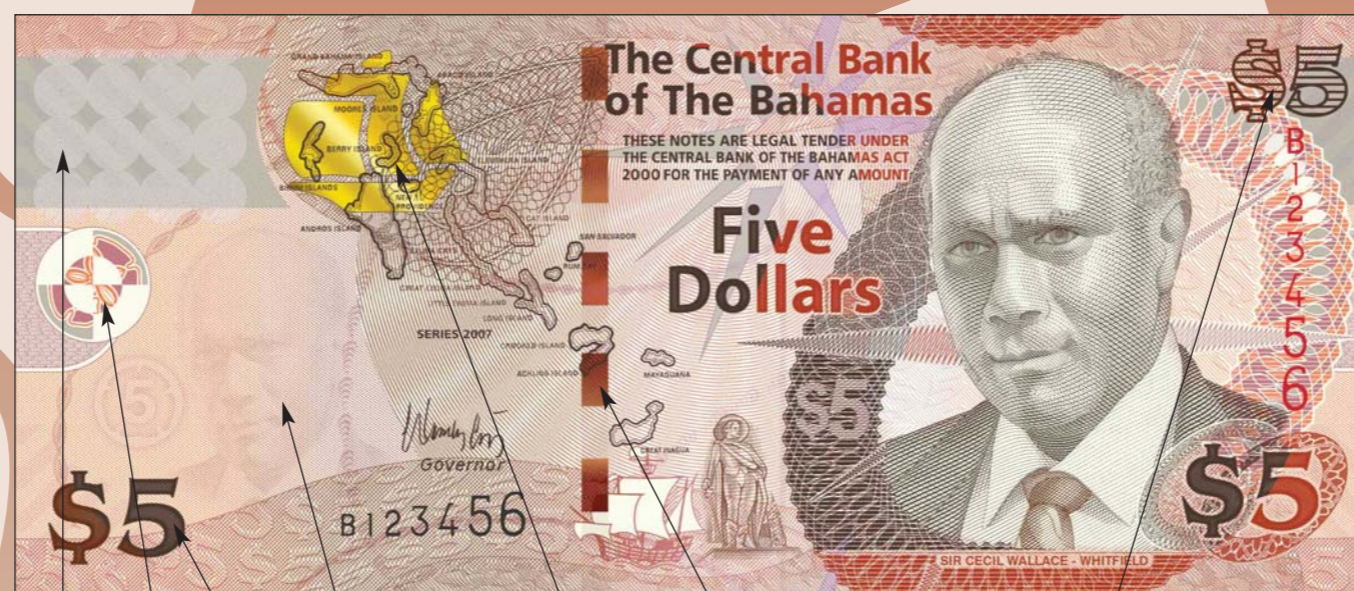

Introduces an addition to its
CRISP* family of banknotes

CRISP $5

Front

A fresh working of existing colours. A new portrait of Sir Cecil Wallace-Whitfield positioned on the right of the note.

"Series 2007"

5 6 4 1 7 3 2 8 1 4 6

Back

Lively new colours for the Junkanoo theme includes blues, reds and browns.

New features have been incorporated onto the new design as follows:

1. Watermark and highlighted image

When held against the light the portrait of Sir Cecil Wallace-Whitfield and a highlighted area showing the denomination "5" can be seen on the left of the note.

2. Colour shifting thread with text

The security thread comes to the surface at regular intervals and its colour shifting metallic sheen can be observed changing from red to green when tilted. The complete thread is only visible when viewed against the light and reads "BAHAMAS".

3. Gold metallic foil in the shape of a galleon with the Bahama Islands overprinted in Brown ink.

4. Large numeral with extra tactility
Facilitates the handling by the visually impaired.

5. Metallic feature

Composed of highly reflective metallic ink with a bold embossed design in the shape of circles.

6. See-through feature

When the banknote is held against the light a complete design showing a sand dollar can be seen.

7. Gold Iridescent band

A band printed with iridescent gold ink where repeat images of the Central Bank of The Bahamas logo can be seen.

8. Fluorescent feature

The intricate pattern in yellow will switch into two different colours (red and green) when viewed under ultra-violet light.